

The “ENERTIA AWARDS 2010” WON BY RELIANCE INDUSTRIES LTD. – SOLAR GROUP

After 2008, when Reliance Industries Limited was the clear winner for Project Management in commercialization of RIL-KG Basin Gas find in record time . Once again, RIL- Solar Group got the honor to hoist the flag of Reliance Industries Limited in the field of Project management and Power Generation by Solar Energy. With this we move ahead with the belief of late Shri Dhirubhai Ambani, “What is Good for India is good for Reliance.”

We take pleasure to inform that RELIANCE INDUSTRIES LTD. – SOLAR GROUP got the Award for “Category I : Power Generation Awards – Solar Energy” at the Prestigious National Awards - The 4th “ENERTIA AWARDS 2010” in Mumbai held on Wednesday, 6th October 2010 . This award has been given to us for Building & Commissioning India’s largest Solar Power Plant at Khimsar in Rajasthan based on Solar PV System using state-of-the-art technology and grid integration system.

In addition, the Jury Panel of ENERTIA AWARDS 2010 also recognised the Speedy Commissioning of the 1MW Rooftop Solar PV power generation system installed at Thyagraj Stadium, New Delhi for the CWG, a first time project of its kind in the country. This project which is also grid connected will contribute to emission reduction which is recognised and applauded by this jury.

Against many experienced players in Solar Energy arena, including Karnataka Power Corporation Limited (KPCL), we were the youngest enterprise to win such a prestigious award in a short time of operation of just three years.

The award was handed over to us by Shri Anil Razdan, Former Secretary Power and Chairman of the Jury panel. In this ceremony, overall 18-Awards were conferred including excellence in Power Generation, Technology & Innovation, Utility Performance, and Individual Awards for Sector Contribution & Award for the Most Excellent Investment-friendly State in Energy & Power

As we know, ENERTIA is India's leading journal on Sustainable Energy & Power. It is a catalyst in mobilizing issues relevant to Energy Sustainability . The journal ENERTIA is led & supported by the numero-uno Power & Energy infrastructure professionals, with FALCON Media standing thereby acting as an enabling interface in bridging of agendas of both the industry and the planners /government and will continue to build this interface.
